Hello. The theme of this little essay will be quotation of the great Indian politician, a bright person with the very interesting biography - Mahatma Gandhi, whose name is an example of beauty and power that can be in human's heart. He said: "Be the change that you wish to see in the world." Today we are going to talk about it 62

My opinion on that quotation is very positive. It's very simple and not so long, but the meaning in that words is beautiful and wide. There are two reasons in that. First - this quote addresses to the people that can only argue about why our world is so bad. Gandhi sends them in action to fight with the bad sides of the world, to change it, to send the impact with your actions. Second reason is Gandhi himself. His life was the fight with God - against the wars, slavery, against the weakness of the government. His life was this change all along. 62

As example of the quote I want to take the story of one of my friends. Walking to the school every morning, he seen the dirt and garbage everywhere. He didn't complain about it, but one day he grabbed the broom and garbage bin and walked down the street, clearing it. Since then he's doing it almost every Monday, making the streets of our city cleaner. 62

You don't need to take all your life in fight against something you don't like, but even the small deeds will cause impact overtime. Change the world as you can. This is the conclusion of this essay, and that's all I wanted to say.
Goodbye
